ABSTRACT

Concern over the problems of labor-management relations in the public sector has generated considerable interest and concern in recent years among faculty and students as well as government employers and employees throughout the nation. Thus the Manpower and Industrial Relations Institute of the University of Alabama decided to issue a series of bibliographies on the subject for national distribution. The articles in the first listing are categorized as follows: (A) Public Sector Labor Relations - General; (B) State Legislation; (C) Union Organization and Representation; (D) Collective Bargaining; (E) Contract Administration and Public Employee Rights; (F) Impasse Procedures; and (G) Strike Problems. PREFACE

This bibliography is the first in a series to be prepared by the faculty and staff of the Manpower and Industrial Relations Institute of the University of Alabama. Housed within the Graduate School of Business, the Institute was established in January 1972 to further the University's teaching, research, and technical service programs in the fields related to manpower and industrial relations.

Concern over the problems of labor-management relations in the public sector has generated considerable interest and concern in recent years among our faculty and students as well as government employers and employees in the state of Alabama and in the nation. This is the third year that Professor Allan D. Spritzer has prepared a current bibliography of selected periodical literature on this subject. Now, through our Institute, this year's listing has been made available for wider distribution to students, researchers, practitioners, and other interested persons. A very limited number of copies of the 1970 and 1971 bibliographies are available upon request. Certain entries for earlier years that were not included in the 1970 and 1971 bibliographies are contained in this year's.

The articles noted in the 1972 listing are categorized as follows:

A. Public Sector Labor Relations - General
B. State Legislation
C. Union Organization and Representation
D. Collective Bargaining
E. Contract Administration and Public Employee Rights
F. Impasse Procedures
G. Strike Problems
